While we think of it, is Mr. Thurston drawing a salary as Minister to Washington or attorney in the "Prince Cupid" case, or both?

Mr. Thurston's address Thursday night was simply a rehash of what the people have been told many times over during the past two years, but which is still lacking in essential points. The public would like to have heard what Mr. Thurston has done for annexation during the spare time he has had to give his official duties at Washington. The public would also like to be informed, authoritatively, whether the United States has signified a willingness to annex the islands and give us the same advantages of labor that we enjoy to-day.

The prosperity of the islands depends upon our ability to maintain the only industry that exists here. Comparison with the conditions in the South after the abolition of slavery is farcical for the reason that sugar was not the only products there. There was cotton and rice and other resources since developed. In Alabama, for instance, there is one of the most extensive iron mills in the United States. Let Mr. Thurston, when he is making comparisons, tell his hearers of the condition of the people of the Carolinas and of Georgia for fifteen or twenty years after the war. How rapidly did the city of Charleston advance, and what of Savannah, and Wilmington, of Columbia and Atlanta? Their present healthful condition is not due to the production of rice or of either of the other staples in which slave labor was engaged; the States of the far south had resources that had never been developed for various reasons, the principal one of which was the fact that the others served the purposes of the owners and they were willing to let well enough alone. It was only when reverses were met and years of suffering followed, that their eyes were opened and northern capital and northern energy and brains were induced to come there, and by their thrift and enterprise put the south on an almost equal financial footing with the north. We believe it is best for everyone that the development of other resources here should begin now and put us in a position to meet the set-back which annexation would unquestionably thrust upon us, rather than suffer the pangs and inconveniences of bankruptcy for a dozen years because our leading industry had been killed by the laws of the government to which we had allied ourselves.

While in Stockton, Cal., some time ago, Thos. F. Langan, of Los Banos, that state, was taken very severely with cramps and diarrhoea. He chanced to meet Mr. C. M. Carter, who was similarly afflicted. He says: "I told him of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and we went to the Holden Drug Store and procured a bottle of it. It gave Mr. Carter prompt relief and I can vouch for its having cured me." For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

The question among the business men of Honolulu is:

To solve the problem as well as to ascertain whether advertisements attract the attention of newspaper readers, we offer a pair of our best $5.00 shoes ($6.50 anywhere else) to the person who sends us, under the head of "Wanted," the cleverest advertisement of our shoes. It must be original, concise, and to the point. It must not be longer than any ordinary want ad. found in the daily papers.

The attention of out-of-town subscribers is particularly called to this competition—We want your ad. Honolulu competitors may drop their envelopes in the box just inside the store door.

Business Talks

May 29, 1895.

If the business in any one line was controlled by one individual, what would be the result? If there was a demand for his wares he would be richer than Croesus at the end of a year and you would have to pay through the nose for what you bought of him. In the United States competition has brought the price of necessities down to a stage where people may have them and not be looked upon as extravagant. If you will look around among our stock you will find that it is made up largely of articles for which you have every day use. We have luxuries as well, but, to-day we tell you of things needful about the house. Agate ware for instance!

There's been a scarcity in Coffee Biggins in town, but we have a stock of them That will interest everyone.

We get our goods in agate ware from La Lance and Grosjean, the makers, and they have the reputation of making the best goods in their particular lines in the United States. We can get "seconds" from them, but the first quality is the best because the enamel will not chip off.

Water coolers, handsomely painted outside And enamel lined inside, Small ones for a family or large Ones for a foundry.

Japanned ware includes cake tins, trays, crumb pans, cuspidors and lots of other things. The prettiest and probably the most useful article in the lot is a toilet stand, very neat as to decorations and complete as to detail in the matter of articles that go with them.

The one that will strike your fancy Has a water tank that will Hold sufficient water for the day.

The price of these articles is not in proportion to the value of the goods. You get more for your money than you are used to, but then—competition has fixed that in the United States—we buy cheap and follow the same rule in selling, you understand the Golden Rule.

Retained Glue Pots and Slop Bowls Are a new thing with us: Bright and pretty, like a silver dollar.

And you can get them at a price that will amaze you. You should have one of these because they are useful and serviceable.

This is a fish-eating community because the fish are fresh and of an exquisite flavor. All people do not know how to cook them so as to get the substance.

With one of our Agate Steamers you Can steam or boil your fish And not lose the flavor.

These fish kettles vary in size from the mullet to the ulua, and the price goes according to the size.

Farmers' Boilers are not used in every household, but there is scarcely a plantation on the islands but what requires one; they are not to be found in every store in the city, but we have a few of them to accommodate the people who want them.

Among other useful articles let us call your attention to agate and tin basting spoons, tea and coffee caddies, egg poachers, chopping bowls, dish pans, dairy pans and wooden potato slicers.

What is better with your chop In the morning than a few Saratogo Chips? You can get them By using one of these slicers.

Our stock is complete in detail—nothing old or shop-worn.

WHOA!

Just a minute. We want you to know about the famous

BOYCE TABLET LINIMENT.

The many favorable testimonials received from Horsemen both in the United States, and in Europe concerning Boyce Tablets, encourage us, in preparing for the coming season, to make every effort to bring Boyce Tablets to the notice of everyone who is interested in horses. A few of these testimonials will suffice to show the reputation Boyce Tablets have obtained for themselves throughout the country.

To Horsemen who have not yet used Boyce Tablets, we would say that these tablets represent the solid ingredients of a most valuable Liquid Liniment prepared by combining the medicinal agents, recognized by the Veterinary Medical Profession to be the most effective in reducing fever, strengthening stimulating and imparting elasticity to the muscles and tendons; in purifying healing, and softening the skin; and in keeping the hair bright and silky.

It will readily be seen that this liniment in dry form has the following advantages over any other liniments.

1. Its great economy.
2. It requires much less space to carry it.
3. It is much lighter in weight.
4. It is free from danger of leaking, breaking, freezing or wasting.
5. Its ready solubility in either warm or cold water enables the Horseman to prepare his liniment in any quantity and of strength in a few moments time.

In addition to the ingredients most popularly considered by Horsemen as valuable constituents of Veterinary Liniment, we may say that, a Boyce Tablet contains more Genuine Witch Hazel than is in a quart of the liquid extract;

Eucalyptus, or Extract of the fever tree of South America, and Sal-Ester, whose valuable properties as an Anti-septic, Anizymotic and Prophylactic, are accepted and acknowledged by all medical practitioners, also form a part of Boyce Tablets.
